

Just a Little Dill, Please.

We will be celebrating dill as the herb of the year for 2010. In honor of that celebration we'd like to encourage all of you to share your experiences with dill. Just send a paragraph, please—how you grow it in your part of the world, how you use it, your favorite cultivar, any interesting tidbits you've heard or read about it. (If you're not writing about a personal experience, please include details about your source—who and where.). We'll collect and post your dilly bits on the Web site. Please send them (by October 1, 2009) to: Elizabeth Kennel (ae Kennel@msn.com) (1109 Dickens Drive, West Chester, PA, 19380)
