

Temporary interior wall-will be the exterior wall of the southern end of the building while the new addition is being built.

Another view of the temporary wall

Electrical panels prepared to be relocated